STATE TO RETURN THE TAX

RADICAL CHANGE IN MORTGAGE BILL-MONEY TO GO TO LOCALITIES.

[BT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Albany, March 6 .- The Mortgage Tax bill has new been amended so that the entire revenue which is expected to be raised under it will be returned to the localities where the tax is collected. Senator Stranahan, the introducer of the bill, to-morrow will present the amendments which will provide for such a return of moneys, and he expects that they will be adopted, and that the bill will pass the upper ouse on Wednesday or Thursday of next week. The bill came up for final passage to-day, whereupon Senator Armstrong offered an amendment for the local return of the tax. After some discussion the bill was laid aside and this afternoon Senators Stranahan and Armstrong spent several hours perfecting the amendments.

The bill when amended will provide that there shall be a tax of five mills on a dollar for all mortgages recorded after May 1. Any mortgage recorded before that time may also come in under the new law, and provision is made that short building loan mortgages shall not be taxed more than once,

The mechanism by which the tax is to be raised and collected is as follows: The County clerk of each county shall report each month to the State Controller all stamps that have been sold, and at the same time turn over the money collected. On November 1 of each year the Controller shall make a report to the State Treasurer, showing the amount of money collected in each county, and then the State Treasbirer shall pay to the county treasurers their respective sums. The State Treasurer, however, shall retain for the State a sum equal to the expense of printing and circulating the stamps which are to be attached to the recorded mort-

In the counties of the State the county treasbrers shall credit to each city and town a sum in proportion to the equalized assessed valuation on the real and personal property within these cities and towns, as compared with the equalized assessed valuation on the real and personal property of the county.

On a motion recently to advance the bill, which at that time provided that the tax should go entirely to the State, it was discovered that all the members of the New-York City delegation, with the exception of Senator Grady, Tammany, and Senators Eisberg and Slater, Republicans, were opposed to the bill. As amended it is expected that the Democrats will | IT LEGALIZES SALE OF TICKETS FOR SPACE be compelled to turn about and support the bill, inasmuch as their contention has been that the money should go to the localities.

In speaking of the bill as it will be amended, Senator Stranahan said to-night:

I expect that the bill in its new form will pass the Senate. Under its provisions I believe that the revenue from the taxation of mortgages will be far greater than it is at present, and the different localities where the tax is to be levied will profit thereby. In the city of New-York, for example, under the present law enly about $300,000 is raised yearly, whereas under the proposed statute it is expected that more than $1,700,000 will be raised, which will be a gain of more than $1,250,000.

It was the opinion of the assembly leaders of the Republican party to-night that the bill was likely to pass the lower house.

Fritz Lindinger, president of the Liquor Dealers' Association, had a conference with District Attorbey Jerome yesterday afternoon. After the conference Mr. Lindinger said he was going to Albany in Tuesday to argue in favor of Mr. Jerome's bill. IN FAVOR OF POOLROOM MEN.

BILL LESSENING PENALTY FAVORABLY REPORTED IN THE SENATE.

Albany, March 6 .- The Senate Cities Committee to-day reported favorably the bill of Senator Trainor which changes the punishment for pool selling from a felony to a misdemeanor. The bill strikes out of the present law the following:

"And upon conviction is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison for a period not less than one year, nor more than two years, or by such imprisonment together with a fine not exceeding $2.000."

Senator White, of Syracuse, was recorded in the negative on the bill in the report of the committee. The opposition to the measure say that the bill by lessening the punishment will practically license poolselling, as poolsellers will be willing to pay occasional fines for continuing in business.

HEARING ON CHARITIES BILL.

Albany, March 6 .- Assemblyman J. P. Alids, who introduced the State Charities bill in the Assembly, said to-day that misapprehension as to its scope seemed to exist in the minds of many who are not familiar with its provisions. The measure, he said, does not apply to any private or secular charitable institutions. They will not be affected in the slightest degree by it. Institutions which are supported wholly by State funds are the only ones that will be affected. The enactment of the bill, he said, means that every State institution, charitable and reformatory, will be placed under a uniform financial system, with a central responsible control, which shall be so simple in its operation that misappropriations or wasteful expenditures will be impossible. The proposed fiscal supervisor, he further said, is merely a financial agent, and has absolutely no power of appointment or removal.

A joint hearing will be given by the Senate and Assembly judiciary committees on the Charities bill next Tuesday afternoon. slightest degree by it. Institutions which are sup-

GREAT VEIN OF IRON ORE DISCOVERED.

DEPOSIT NEAR LYON MOUNTAIN PROVES ONE OF THE BIGGEST IN THE WORLD.

Plattsburg, N. Y., March 6.-The Chateaugay Ore and Iron Company has recently discovered that the vein of iron ore at its mines near Lyon Mountain, New-York, which was supposed to be thirty feet in thickness, is in reality over seventy feet and extends for six miles in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction from Lyon Mountain, making it one of the largest deposits of iron ore in the world. The company has increased its capital stock from $1,500,000 to $2,750,000, of which the Delaware and Hudson Company owns $1,400,000, a controlling interest.

The company has hurried a force of several hun dred men into its forests to get out a supply of wood for charcoal. The charcoal blast furnace at Standish will be rebuilt, with an annual capacity of 25,000 tons of charcoal pig iron. Fifty new brick charcoal kins will be built. BLOW AIMED AT ANARCHY.

SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE RECOM-MENDS LAW FOR ITS SUPPRESSION.

Albany, March 6.-The Senate Judiciary Com mittee to-day presented its report on the question of suppressing anarchy. The report calls attention to the fact that immigration laws have allowed an undesirable class of persons to come into this country who misunderstand its institutions and know nothing about its forms of government. After referring to the laws which are at present before Congress and are designed to aid in the suppression of anarchy, the report continues:

What is needed and what this committee recommends is the enactment of additional sections of the Penal Code that shall make the assembling of anarchists for the purpose of spreading or teaching their doctrines unlawful, irrespective of the question of whether their meetings be for force or disturbance of the public peace in any way, or for the spreading of their doctrines. We recommend that the advocacy or the teaching of such doctrines by individuals or otherwise, by speech, or writing, shall be made a criminal offence, and that open justification of any crime under authority of or by reference to such doctrines shall likewise be made criminal.

A similar provision is made in the federal bill, but we believe it should also be included in our criminal code as well, because the State, through its local police and judicial agencies, can more surely ascertain and detect, and more speedily punish, this class of offenders.

We recommend further that no owner, occupant or agent of any building, house or room shall knowingly permit his premises to be used for a meeting place for anarchists.

The report states that precedent for this latter action can be found in the provisions of the Penal Code which make it unlawful to main-Penal Code which make it unlawful to maintain disorderly houses or gambling rooms. The report also states that this is as far as the committee deems it wise to go, as the recommendation of more drastic legislation would bring the law dangerously close to the constitutional provision. It states that with these sections added to the Penal Code newspaper proprietors who publish inflammatory or seditious articles can readily be reached.

A bill carrying into effect the recommendations of the committee was introduced. The punishment for all offences, except permitting the assembling of anarchists, is made imprisonment for not more than ten years, or a fine of not more than $5,000, or by both. For owners or occupants of premises who permit the assembling of anarchists the punishment upon conviction is fixed at two years' imprisonment or not more than $2,000 fine, or both.

AMERICAN LEAGUE'S ACTION.

HEADQUARTERS MAY BE MOVED TO NEW YORK-CHANGES IN RULES.

Detroit, March 6.-The American League clubwners, at their last session this afternoon adopted the changes in the playing rules recommended by the Buffalo conference of last month, with the exception of the foul strike rule, which will be played in the American League the same as it was last

The most important of these recommendations is the one providing that the umpire shall call a ball n the pitcher each time he delays the game falling to deliver the ball to the batsmen, when he has been in position for more than twenty seconds. This exception is made, however, that in the case of the first batsman in each inning, the pitcher of the first batsman in each inning, the pitcher may occupy not more than one minute in delivering not to exceed five bails to one of the batsmen, for the purpose of warming up. The advisability of removing the headquarters of the league from Chicago to New-York was brought up, and after some debate a resolution was adopted leaving the subject to the discretion of President Johnson.

President Johnson was asked after the meeting whether he would move his headquarters to New-York, and he said: "Not before the middle of the summer, if at all. In fact, the change may not be made till next winter."

ALLEGED INDUSTRIAL ABUSES.

GARMENT WORKERS OBJECT TO THE COMPETI TION OF GIRLS UNDER LEGAL AGE IN CITY

A preliminary conference took place yesterday in the Bible House between Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the Consumers' League, and Henry White, general secretary of the United Garment Workers, in reference to alleged industrial abuses in some of the charitable institutions for women of this city. Henry White is a member of the industrial committee of the Civic Federation, and represents the unions in the clothing trades in that body. It is alleged by Secretary White that girls who are below the age in which girls can be legally employed in factories are employed in these institutions in making garments for the outside market, which causes unfair competition with work done outside of the institutions by wage earners.

Secretary White said after the conference that it was proposed to get up a petition to be sent to Mayor Low and the Board of Aldermen, asking for the withdrawal of the per capita stipend given to these institutions from the city taxes until the alleged abuses were ended. "The Consumers League," he continued, "will co-operate in every way with the unions in the cithing trades in the matter, it was precisely this form of competition in the State prisons that the labor unions have been fighting against so long, and that in a great measure has been abolished. The charitable institutions should not be made a menace to the people who are earning their living." Secretary White said after the conference that make laws and protect its own members only and look out only for such legislation as will interest its members. In other words, it will not consider the wishes or conveniences of the average auto-mobilist unless he happens to be a member of one of the allied clubs.

AUTOMOBILE TOPICS.

WITH RIVAL ORGANIZATIONS TROUBLE IS IN SIGHT-NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Those who have watched the automobile controversies closely are of the opinion that there is trouble ahead for the newly organized American Automobile Association. This is the association organized at Chicago this week, and is composed of most of the important automobile clubs in the It is said that this organization, of ecuntry.

Now, a newer organization is in the field, which will be known as the American Motor League, which will be an organization for individuals, which will be an organization for individuals, something on the order of the League of American Wheelmen. This association will try to exist upon an individual basis, and its promoters say that they will look out for the sutomebile interests of all, no matter what their affiliations are. The prediction has been made that with two organizations in the field conflict is sure to result, and some of the best posted automobilists are of the opinion that the two associations should come together and consolidate. This would be advisable in legislative cases, for then, when a committee is sent to a State applial, it could say with truth that it represented the united automobilists of the country.

Mr. Scarrett, the president of the consolidated clubs, is one of the pioneer automobile enthusiasts of the country. He is the president of the Automobile Club of New-Jersey, and also a charter member of the Automobile Club of America, and one of its governors. The local club is well represented in the newly elected officers of the consolidated clubs.

R. Lindsay Coleman, who has observed with manifested in this year's exhibit at Chicago, says.

It begins to look now as though the automobile had fairly started upon a long and successful run of public recognition and favor. I had anticipated a lively show this year, in which would be exhibited marked appreciation of the many improvements made within the last twelve months, but I confess that my expectations have been exceeded to a most gratifying extent. Until recently, few, if any, conscientious makers have been able to guarantee their products as embodying those features in construction and operation which would make them safe, satisfactory and reliable.

We ourselves, with perhaps inrivalled facilities for manufacture, have been for months past engaged principally in the work of experiment and investigation, and not until now, as exemplified in the models shown here, have we been able to say that the experimental stage has been passed, and that in the steam, electric and gasolene types of our manufacture have we finally produced machines for business, pleasure and merchandise transport purposes in which full reliance may be placed, and in which simplicity of operation and construction have been attained to a degree that we had not at first thought practicable. manifested in this year's exhibit at Chicago, says

They admit the good points of steam and gasolene, but the dainty appearance of the electric carriage, the the dainty appearance of the securic carriage, the lack of odor, noise and vibration, all tend to in-crease its value in the eyes of feminine automobil-ists. The number of women autoists is increasing rapidly, and it is no unusual sight to see them in the park driving modern vehicles.

as been the frequent necessity of filling the water tanks, which is always a laborious task, but this drawback is now removed, as an inspection of a new steam carriage will prove. A water syphon is fitted to the tank, and to it is connected a hose, at the end of which is a strainer to filter the water before it enters the tanks. With this attachment it is only necessary to drop the hose into some wayside stream or corner water trough, and in a few n-inutes, after opening the valve, the tanks will be filled with filtered water. In this carriage the water tanks are large, which also is a desirable feature. Without the syphon arrangement the operator must needs fill the tanks of his vehicle by the aid of a bucket, and delays and discomfort are thus caused. drawback is now removed, as an inspection of a

A well known automobile company A well known automobile company who builds a steam carriage has designed a muffler to meet a third requirement, and that is to heat the feed water. It takes a certain length of time to bring cold water up to the boiling point, and such delay may characterize the boiler as "slow steaming." The company above referred to has hit on a novel scheme by which the exhaust steam, which has no further value, passes into the muffler, in which is a coil of steel tubing, through which the cold water passes on its way to the boiler.

Charles R. Flint and E. H. Harriman, two well known Wall Street financiers, have ordered steam carriages. Another advocate of this steam vehicle is Colonel John Jacob Astor, who has heretofore operated a gasolene runabout.

SPEED BILL INEFFECTIVE, COCKS SAYS. IN AMENDED FORM SENATE PASSES IT-SENATOR WHO FATHERED IT IS DISPLEASED.

Albany, March 6.-The Cocks Automobile Speed bill finally passed the Senate this morning, but in such shape that its introducer says it is entirely ineffective. Originally the offence of driving an automobile faster than eight miles an hour within automobile faster than eight miles an hour within city and village limits, and fifteen miles an hour without, was punishable as a misdemeanor by a fine of $50 and imprisonment for six months. The Automobile Club of America, through its president, William R. Shattuck, opposed the bill and finally secured its amendment through the efforts of Sentators Frackett and Trainor.

The bill as passed to day provides that any one who operates an automobile faster than eight miles an hour within a city or village where local ordinances do not otherwise provide, and faster than twenty miles an hour outside of city or village limits, or faster than four miles an hour on any bridge, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined for the first offence not exceeding $50, or by imprisonment for a term of six months, or both.

There was no debate on the bill, but Senator Cocks arose and said: "We are like the people of old: we asked for bread and you have given us a stone." stone."
The bill was passed by 5 vote of 40 ayes, and no one was recorded in the negative.

The Yale University team won an easy victory

For several minutes in the first half the Columbia team put up a strong de-fence, and it looked at this stage as if the New-Haven players would have a hard time to win. Stoddard was first to begin the excitement in the opening half, when he sent the rubber into the cage for the first point for Yale. A few minutes later, however, the Columbia "rooters" received the opportunity to get even when Bradley sent the disk into the basket, theing the score. FAVORITES HAVE AN INNING.

San Francisco, March 6.-Favorites had an inning at Oakland to-day, all races going to short priced horses. The weather was fine, but the track was muddy. The principal interest centred in the mile and three-quarter race, which served as a preliminary to the Thornton Stakes at four miles to be run a week from Saturday. Siddons won easily from Black Dick. Dorian, heavily played, stopped badly after O'Connor tried to rate him. Derby Winner, who made a poor showing yesterday, was backed into favoritism in the first race, and won, driving, from Black Thorn, who made his first ap-pearance. O'Connor and Jackson each rode two winners. Summary:

The match went to the New-Yorkers in straight games, taking only thirty-five minutes to play. Waterbury's crafty service, together with the wonderful judgment of the champion in floor work, was a combination that the local men failed to solve. The score by games was:

PRINCE INVITED TO SHOW.

THE SPORTSMEN'S EXHIBITION IN FULL SWING-A NOVEL DISPLAY

OF FISHES.

It was a transformation indeed to those who visited Madison Square Garden last night and remembered the rather chaotic conditions that pre-valled on Wednesday. The sound of the hammer and the rasping whirr of the carpenters' saws were still, and instead of only a meagre lot of spectators every aisle was thronged. Between 8:30 and 10:30 p. m. one found the space outside the waterway and in the balcony reserved as a prom-enade uncomfortably crowded, and the timid, wearled of being borne along with the human tide, discreetly withdrew to the galleries, where they could watch the rather spectacular scene before them in comfort.

The scene from the first gallery is a bewitching one, and no spectator to the Sportsmen's should omit to go to this vantage ground before leaving the building. It illustrates a picture as a whole which cannot be seen or fully appreciated from the main floor of the arena. The best view point is in the gallery at the Madison Square end of the building. From this point the full beauty of the scene can be witnessed, with the waterway almost encircling the Garden, and the picturesque representation of a spur of the Adirondacks, with its real water trout streams empty-ing into the waterway. The game park on the island and the Indians and animals can also be seen to advantage. The little canoes paddled by Indians and freighted down with women and children complete a scene as much out of the ordinary as it is pretty.

J. A. H. Dressel, the general manager of the show, yesterday sent to Dr. von Holleben, the German Ambassador, an invitation to Prince Heavy to visit the exhibit on Saturday, or on any other day that might suit his convenience. Prince Henry is said to be an ardent sportsman, and, in the opinion of the directors of the association, he might be in-terested in the exhibit. The directors' box at the Garden will be placed at the disposal of the Prince in case he finds it convenient to accept the invita-

There is one proud individual at the Garden, and that is "Ed" Mott, the veteran sportsman. Mr. Mott is in charge of the fisheries, and he says that the exhibit of the members of the finny tribe is the best ever seen in this neighborhood. The exhibit on the Twenty-seventh-st. side of the arena is a piscatorial kaleidoscope, in a sense. The goldfish are unique, some of them having two and some three, tails. When an expert was asked how interbreeding could accomplish such a result, he said it was brought about probably in the same way that the growers in the South evolved the seedless oranges. The three species are known as Comets, Fantails and Triple Tails. The Comets have a oranges. The three species are known as Comets, Fantalis and Triple Tails. The Comets have a spikelike tail, and dart up and down with remarkable rapidity. In the exhibit there are also two Northern pike, twenty wall eyed pike, ten yellow perch, four pickerel, two ling and one dogfall. Several of these specimens have never before been seen in this district.

The women and children are much interested in two little specimens of semi-savage humanity—Mone, a twelve-year-old Esquimau boy, and a little Indian maiden about eight years old. The two have formed a strong attachment, and the willy press agent is already concocting a scheme for a remance. Mene is watched carefully by his guardisms, for he is a mischievous chap, but in spite of the vigilance he escapes at regular intervals. These escapades caused his mentors much uneasiness for some time yesterday until it was found that every time Mene disappears his friends know where to find him.

The rifle shooting and pistol matches will begin to day. There was only one fly casting contest yesterday, and this was won by E. J. Mills, of Brooklyn, with a cast of 73 feet, a good performance under the circumstances. W. K. Park, of Pennsylvania, was second, with 64 feet 10 inches, and John Taylor, of this city, third, with 64 feet. The winner was light in weight, while the third man was the heavyweight of the competitors. Thirty-two entries have been received for the rifle tournament.

COLUMBIA SPORTING NEWS.

The question of a football game between Yale and The question of a football game between take and Columbia this year will probably be decided within a few days. Columbia's football authorities, it is understood, wrote Yale on Wednesday asking for a final answer on the subject. This, it is believed, Yale sent yesterday, as unofficial word was received at the university to that effect, but whether Yale's reply is favorable or not could not be learned resterday. C. G. Abbott, manager of the Columbia football team, said yesterday that he had as yet heard nothing from Yale.

Columbia's schedule of fencing meets was made public yesterday by C. G. Gunther, the manager, The team will compete in the junior foils competi-tion for the Morris medals at the Fencers' Club to-morrow night. On March 15 the team will engage morrow night. On March is the team with the West Point. Two weeks later Columbia with Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Annapolis and West Point will meet in the annual intercollegiate championships at the New-York Athletic Club.

Graduates of Columbia interested in rowing at the university are undertaking to raise sufficimoney to purchase for the use of the university oarsmen the boathouse of the Lone Star Boat Club on the Harlem River. While Columbia has at pres-ent a handsome boathouse on the Hudson, the gift of Edward Gould, these quarters are not available until May 1 on account of the rough water which prevails on the Hudson up to that time. In consequence the oarsmen in previous years have done their first open air work on the Harlem in March and have had the use of various boathouses through the courtesy of the different clubs. This has in many cuses been awkward, inconvenient and has failed to provide satisfactory quarters for the oarsmen and the boats. For this reason the movement was begun to purchase the Lone Starhouse. The collection of subscriptions has been taken among only a few graduates, as it is not desired to raise the money by popular subscription. The money of undergraduates and alumni in general will be reserved for the maintenance of the crew. gift of Edward Gould, these quarters are not avail-
